CHICAGO YARDS ARE CLOSED

Quarantine Extends from Iowa to Massachusetts; Whole Country Alarmed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Further spread of the livestock foot and mouth disease has caused the extension of the federal quarantine to Massachusetts and Iowa. Reports to the department of agriculture announced the discovery of the epidemic at South Attleboro, Bristol County, Massachusetts, and at Pocatello, Ia., the first case west of the Mississippi. Cattle, sheep and hogs now cannot be moved out of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, Massachusetts or Iowa.

In addition to the states already quarantined, a suspected case exists at Como, Minn., where it is reported a herd owner himself has contracted the disease. The federal authorities are advising state officials to impose stringent quarantines against infected sections, and even to prevent children from leaving the farms to attend schools.

Poultry Under Control.

Hope was expressed today, on receipt of reports of no new cases in Illinois and Michigan, that the epidemic there had been placed under control. On the other hand, new cases were found in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and in three more counties in Illinois.

The official of the department of agriculture in charge of putting down the epidemic, Dr. W. H. Nichols, told reporters today that the disease had been checked in the West, but was still prevalent in the East. The two inspectors were rushed today to Wisconsin, Iowa and Massachusetts. Department officials have suggested to the promoters of the Royal Cattle show, to be held at Kansas City, Mo., this fall that the event should be postponed.

Chicago Yards Closed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A large part of the cattle-receiving and meat-packing industry of the country, long centered in Chicago, tonight temporarily was shifted to Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph, Mo., and other western cities, and the Chicago Union stockyards, for the first time since its organization in 1865, was closed down for nine days in consequence of the prevalence of hoof and mouth disease among cattle. The quarantine against the stockyards and all other cattle pens within the state went into effect at midnight. The state's action supplements the federal quarantine against Illinois.

No more cattle, sheep or hogs are to be received in Chicago until November 16, when business is to be resumed after the yards have been thoroughly disinfected and pronounced free from the disease.

Packing Men Sent West.

The packers tonight sent to Kansas City and their other western branches 1,000 killers and butchers to kill and dress the animals which ordinarily would have been sent to Chicago. They announced that the products from their western plants would be sufficient to supply the market without any change in prices.

An optimistic view was taken of the situation here. All the packers said they had enough stock on hand to run their plants for three or four days, and none of them would entirely shut down.

ELECTION NOT DEFEAT FOR PROGRESSIVES; NEW ERA DAWNS--MURDOCK

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 6.—Declaring that the Progressive elements in American politics were divided by the election on Tuesday, Representative Victor Murdock, Progressive leader in the house and defeated candidate for United States senator, said the next step in political evolution is the breaking of the "solid south" and an alliance that will unite Progressives of all parties for the future.

"The Progressive party which so many have declared to be dead," he added, "was never so much alive as today, for it is the nucleus around which the new forces will gather. The spark of today will be the conflagration of tomorrow. Of course, the reactionary forces in the lower end of Manhattan Island are expecting a close Congress to serve as a warning to President Wilson and to stay his hand. I hope they will not be able to half Mr. Wilson and I do not believe they will."

DENVER, Nov. 6.—Efficiency among individuals and team work among all state elected state officers will be the slogan of the campaign of Hyatt, Gandy, Gandy, George, A. C. Johnson, told members of the Denver chamber of commerce today at the weekly luncheon. Allison Stocker, Harry Muñiz, and Fred Parrish, other state officials-elect, spoke on similar lines.

Republican State Chairman Stewart this afternoon conceded the reelection of Charles S. Thomas, Democrat, over Hubert Work, Republican, to the United States senate. Mr. Stewart estimated Thomas' plurality at at least 1,000 votes.

Chairman Gates of the state Democratic committee stated his returns showed that Thomas' plurality will be about 3,000.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS SUFFER LOSS $750,000 BY FIRE

25 Acres of Cattle Pens Are Reported Destroyed
by Flames

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The largest and most powerful naval gun ever designed has just been completed for the United States navy. It is a 16-inch rifle, which, it became known tonight, has been constructed without publicity at the Washington navy yard and is now being put through tests at the Indian Head proving grounds on the Potomac below this city.

If the new weapon proves to be the success its trials promise, it in all probability will be adopted as the type of gun for the main battery of the three dreadnaughts authorized at the last session of Congress. These vessels, contracts for two of which already have been let, will be larger by several thousand tons than any ship now afloat and experts figure that they can easily carry the heavier guns.

The largest weapons now used in the American navy are the 14-inch guns carried by the dreadnaughts of the Pennsylvania, Nevada and New York class. The newest battleship of the British navy carries 15-inch rifling eight of them in four turrets.

American ships have their 14-inch gun mounted in a casemate, while the British ships have it in a deck mount.

It is claimed that the 16-inch gun will have a range of 15 miles, and thus far the case has offered nothing in the way of a clew. So far as can be learned, the girls had no money with them and, while the theory has been advanced that they may have been kidnapped, it is also pointed out that they left their homes apparently destroying in a few hours steel reinforced fortifications that were believed to be well nigh impregnable.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7.—(UPI)—Twenty-five acres of cattle pens, one-third of the local stockyards, had been destroyed, with a loss estimated at $750,000, by a fire that began last night and still was burning early this morning. Three men were injured, by burns and falling timbers.

The local yards will be seriously crippled in handling the unusually heavy shipments expected here as the result of the quarantine of the Chicago yards.

While officials of the stockyards company deny that any cattle have been burned to death, one report asserts that 4,000 head were lost. Only the sudden ebbing of the wind saved the afternoon jags to continue building, within 30 feet of which the fire started.

In 29 minutes after the fire broke out, two square blocks of cattle pens had been turned and the fire was spreading rapidly. A strong breeze from the southwest and the intense heat from the burning pine handles drove the flames across the building.

The police and firemen threw dry hay light on the fire, trying to stop the flames from spreading, but the fire was too well established to be controlled. About 100 cattle were released and turned into alleys in an attempt to drive them away from the burning pens. The animals stampeded racing through the west river bottoms. Several thousand cattle were unhooked and it was not believed possible to rescue them.

TSING-TAU CAPTURED BY BRITISH AND JAPANESE; CZAR WINS BIG VICTORY

First Decisive Blow Struck in the World War; Germans Are Evicted From Orient

Russians Hurl Teutons Back on East Prussian Frontier and Inflict Terrible Defeat on the Austrians in Galicia; Hard Fighting Still in Progress Around Ypres, but Anglo-French Armies Are Impregnable Against Kaiser's Onslaughts

LONDON, Nov. 7.—(Saturday)—The first decisive victory of the war has been won. Tsing-Tau, the German fortress on the Shan-Tung peninsula in China, has surrendered to the allies.

The Japanese and British forces encompassed the downfall of the stronghold after its garrison of 7,000 men had held out for nearly three months. With its loss, Germany is evicted from Asia.

On the European battle front, Russia claims, through Grand Duke Nicholas, her commander-in-chief, the greatest victory since the beginning of the war, in driving the Germans back to their East Prussian frontier, and defeat to the Germans and Austrians below the river Vistula.

Germany, however, does not concur in this statement, saying there has been no change in the situation in the eastern battle front. The fighting in Poland, according to Berlin, has not yet begun, on account of the slow troop movements due to bad roads. It is admitted that numerically the Russians are the stronger in this region, but Berlin says it hopes to overcome this by strategic positions.

In Austria, according to the Gazette, the Russians are continually harassed by the troops of Emperor Franz Joseph.

TERRIBLE FIGHTING STILL RAGING AROUND YPRES

In the extreme western zone, south and east of Ypres, hard fighting continues, but with neither side having a distinct advantage. Both the allies and the Germans report gains, but neither make claims that would indicate anything except that at all points the combatants either are endeavoring to push forward or to check advances.

On the Aisne, the French say they have retaken the town of Soupir, near Vailly, and that to the east of Verdun they have captured some trenches. The Germans, on the other hand, assert that they have won important positions near St. Mihiel, and in so doing inflicted heavy losses on the French.

RUSSIANS AND TURKS
ENGAGED IN STRUGGLE

As for the operations by the Russians and Turks against each other, nothing new has developed. The Turks are said to be advancing in the Sinai peninsula in the direction of Egypt.

Berlin declares that the Amir of Afghanistan has sent 750,000 men to the British Indian frontier and also that the Sheik-ul-Islam, the head of the Mohammedan church in Turkey, has had spread throughout the world a decree saying that in the war with Russia, Great Britain and France, it is the duty of Moslems to be true to their faith.

Greece, it is said, has ratified a desire she had at the close of the Indo-Balkan war by the taking of Epirus.

A newspaper dispatch says Germany will move 160,000 fresh troops into Belgium next Saturday. Since she would get a route to the sea.

Time and Numbers Force the Germans to Capitulate

TOKIO, Nov. 7.—(Saturday)—It is officially announced that the German fortress of Tsing-Tau has surrendered to the Japanese and British forces. The first step in bringing about the surrender of the fortress occurred at midnight, when the intention-charged who occupied the middle fort on the line of defense in the outer ring of the fortifications.

The fall of Tsing-Tau ends the most picturesque of the minor phases of the great world war so far. In the encirclements and in many of the islands of the seas where colonies of the warring nations are situated, conflicts of the last strategic position outside of the German empire in Europe.

For nearly three months the little German garrison, numbering about 7,000 men and nearly wholly composed of reservists who were living or doing business in China, had held out against the land and sea attacks of the Japanese and British forces. The fortifications of the garrison had been built against the land and sea attacks of the Japanese and British forces. The Japanese have dispersed their forces to all the territories of those nations in Europe which have resulted in the capture of fortified positions.

Relief for War Victims Only Prolongs Struggle, Says California Doctor

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—While efforts were being made to raise funds to succor the victims of the war in Belgium, Dr. Millbank Johnson, president of the municipal charitable commission, published a statement today declaring that relief sent to Europe meant only prolongation of the strife, and suggesting that charity should begin at home.

"Scientific methods and modern civilization," said Dr. Johnson, "are exemplified in the conduct of the warring nations in Europe, have brought to the combatants realization of the potency of suffering women and children in compelling the conqueror to sue for peace. If, then, Europe is determined upon a war of extermination, does it not occur to the discerning mind that relief efforts may only prolong hostilities?

"War in Europe has thrown thousands of women and men in this country out of work. The consequent suf-fing and privation inflicted is appalling. These unfortunates are asking not for luxuries but for food and clothing. Charily, so it is asserted, should begin at home. Has it occurred to the many who eagerly倾向于Europe's cry that they have not contributed to the relief of their own unfortunates?"

NEWSPAPER CAN DRIVE VICE FROM COUNTRY--CAPPER

LAMAR IS ARRESTED IN NEW YORK HOTEL

Now Must Answer Indictment for Impersonating Government Officer

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—David Lamar, who has been fighting removal to this city from the District of Columbia since his indictment in 1912 on a charge of impersonating a government officer with intent to defraud, was arrested in the corridor of an uptown hotel here tonight by two agents of the department of justice. He was taken before William M. Offley, chief agent in New York of the department of justice, who permitted him to consult with counsel and then ordered him locked up for the night.

The arrest was a surprise both to Lamar and to his captors. The latest report to the department of justice agents here had indicated he was still in Washington and was likely to remain there until the circuit court for the district had passed upon his appeal. Tonight the agents were walking along the corridor just as Lamar went quickly through it. Glancing at him as he passed, the detective recognized him as the much-wanted man and immediately seized him.

Now Must Plead to Count

Now that he is in this jurisdiction, Lamar undoubtedly will have to plead to the indictment which charged him with violating section 22 of the United States criminal code by impersonating Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, in order to defraud Lewis Cass Ledyard, J. P. Morgan & Co. and the United States Steel corporation.

When Lamar appeared before the senate lobby investigating committee, he admitted he had impersonated Congressman Palmer and also Congressman Rorland of New York. He was arrested in September, 1913, on this charge and on a supplementary charge that in telephone conversations he had represented that he was speaking on the authority of Speaker Clark and Senator Stone of Missouri.

Removal proceedings resulted in his being ordered to New York for trial and he gave a bond to come to this city to answer the indictment. Later he raised the contention that neither a senator nor a congressman was a government officer. This contention caused more delay. Since that time Lamar has continued his fight.

STOCKMAN HAS FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE, REPORT

Ready for Great Task

"By the middle of next week every animal in the yards will have been killed and the thousands of pens and miles of water troughs will have been cleaned and disinfected. I feel confident full operations might be resumed by next Thursday, but as the cleanup is to be thorough, and as such, a vital point—the health of our cattle throughout the country—is at stake, a few days further delay won't matter."

"Our only apprehension is that the disease might spread in other states which the government might quarantine and we would be unable to get cattle even when the Illinois quarantine is lifted."

"However, the drastic action of the federal government has the full cooperation of cattlemen everywhere."

"Disinfecting is proceeding night and day at the stock yards. Spectators who formerly from the elevated gangways saw herds of cattle now behold acres of empty pens, from most of which about streams of pungent disinfectant."

"A notice cautioning people not to enter the pens occupied by affected cattle said:

Will Be Fumigated.

"Those who do will have to undergo a very disagreeable form of fumigation."

The herd of 800 infected cattle originally found was augmented by the discovery today of 216 more cattle and 600 hogs which were affected. No sheep so far have been affected.

The collection of 800 prize cattle brought here for last week's fair show from 28 states and Canada, is still held in quarantine. Eighteen of the herd have been infected.

The owners today formed an organization to protect the remaining cattle and prevent, if possible, their being contaminated. The state livestock commission said they would be unwilling to remove the cattle before it had been definitely established that they were unaffected. The herd is valued at several million dollars.

Colorado Quarantined.

DENVER, Nov. 6.—Governor Antonious has issued a proclamation quarantining any movement of cattle, sheep or swine from the territory east of the Missouri river and including all stock yards at Missouri river points into the state of Colorado and further ordered that no cattle, sheep or swine be admitted into the state of Colorado for any purpose whatsoever.

Under the proclamation the state board of stock inspection commissioners are instructed to make such regulations in regard to the movement and transportation of live stock as will insure the enforcement of the proclamation. The action is taken in view of the widespread epidemic of the foot and mouth disease in central and eastern states.

CANADIAN INDIANS OFFER TO ENTER ARMY

ADMIRAL CRADOCK, WENT DOWN WITH BRITISH WARSHIP

ENGLISH FORCED ACTION, SAYS LONDON

Details of First Important
Naval Encounter Given to French Public

LONDON, Nov. 7.—(Saturday).—A dispatch to the Central News from Lima, Peru, says that the British cruiser Glasgow, which was in the naval battle with the Germans off Coronel, Chile, last Sunday, has arrived at Puerto Montt, Chile.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—It was the British cruiser Good Hope, Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock's flagship, which foundered after being set on fire by shells from German warships in the naval battle that took place off the Chilean coast last Sunday. The British cruiser Monmouth, which the Germans said they had sunk, was badly damaged and it is possible that she is the warship which was reported today to be ashore on the coast off Chile. So far as is known, none of the Good Hope's crew survived.

This was the news given to the British public by the admiralty this evening, just as the people were beginning to think that the German accounts of the result of the battle in the Pacific had been exaggerated. The only bit of satisfaction for the British is that their little Pacific fleet had chosen to give battle to a very much stronger squadron, and had not been overwhelmed until the last possible shot had been fired at the enemy.

The British cruiser Glasgow, which was with the Good Hope and Monmouth, also put up a fight against the two German cruisers Leipzig and Dresden and when her bigger sisters were put out of action, managed to escape.

British Forced Battle.

Rear Admiral Cradock lived up to his reputation of being one of the followers of that naval school which believed that the enemy should be engaged, no matter what his superiority. According to the admiralty, it was he who brought about the action, for the German squadron at first was disinclined to give battle. It was only when dusk came on and the light was in their favor that the Germans engaged the British, who were three to their four, while superior in the number and range of guns who was in favor of the Germans.

The battleship Canopus, which was sent to reinforce Rear Admiral Cradock, had not arrived in time to place the advantage on the British side, and the British transport Orontes was of no value in the fight against armored ships.

the islands of the Pacific that might fall into her possession during the campaign.

After adequately surveyed and the ultimatum expired a week later Japan proceeded cautiously with plans to seize the German settlement on the Chinese mainland.

The operations in this isolated far eastern theater of the war have been reduced to a scale of some 200 square miles, as compared with the whole continent of Europe, but on that account they have been none the less interesting. Aeroplanes and all other accompaniments of modern warfare have figured in both the Japanese and German operations.

Germans Outnumbered.

The strength of the attacking force, as compared with the little garrison of some 7,000 men and the few German vessels at Kiau-Chow, was so disproportionate that at the beginning of the campaign it was taken for granted that the German possession soon would fall. The surprise was that so small a force was able to hold out so long and inflict a considerable loss, both to the land and naval forces of the allies. Reports from various sources pieced together indicate that the allies' loss around Kiau-Chow has been upward of 2,000 men and several score of rate warships.

The details of the movements have been secret but the first general operation undertaken by the Japanese was the sweeping of the waters around Kiau-Chow for mines which the Germans had laid. In this connection 100 Japanese women shell divers offered their services thinking that they, untrained in the enemy, could dive and release the mines. But the offer was declined since the Japanese law prohibits the employment of women in the warlike operations. During the mine-sweeping campaign, at least one

Fighting continued from the middle of September intermittently until the fall of the fortress today. During this period, both the German and the Japanese warships and aeroplanes engaged in the bombardment of each other's positions. On one of the most severe of these engagements on October 21, it was announced that the Japanese loss was 120 killed and 800 wounded. It was then reported that the Japanese would await the arrival of siege guns before continuing operations. At various times German losses were reported up to a score or more.

On the night of October 17 occurred the most serious of the Japanese naval losses, when the cruiser Takachiho was blown up by the German torpedo boat S-30.

It was reported on October 23 that the Japanese had finally installed their siege guns under cover of Prince Henry mountain and other hills near the town.

The German fortresses included three lines of defense. The first of these, on the outskirts appears to have been evacuated some time ago and the garrison concentrated in Forts Moltke, Blomberg and Hiss, which occupy commanding positions on the range of precipitous hills that circle the harbor of the city. The Germans also had five forts exclusively for shore defense.

Japanes Get Revenge.

The heights back of the city are penetrated only by the railway line and it is probable through this path that the allies proceeded into Tsin-Tau, once the defending fortresses had been silenced.

An interesting document in connection with the fall of Tsin-Tau is the proclamation which the German governor posted on August 22. In this he said:

"Never shall we surrender the smallest bit of ground over which the German flag is flying. From this place where we with love and sacrifice have endeavored during the last 17 years to a little Germany across the seas, we shall not retreat. If the enemy wants Tsin-Tau he must come and take it."

Herbert Clark Hoover chairman of the American commission, today received the following telegram from Capt. T. F. Lacey, the commissioners representative at Rotterdam:

Charge Five Cents a Meal.

Langhorne, Wyman and Bell (Morris M. Langhorne, secretary of the American legation to the Netherlands, and Luxembourg; E. P. Wyman, member of the relief commission, and Edward Bell, second secretary of the American embassy at London) have returned from Brussels where 40,000 meals a day are being issued. Those people who are able to pay are being charged 5 cents for a meal. The meal costs 15 cents, and Bell says that rich and poor stand in line for these meals as it is the only way they can get food.

Joseph Bologne Belgian deputy, and member of the Namur town council, and A. Juarez, deputy and member of the Liege town council, in a signed statement sent to the commission, say: "We have rudely suffered. After the atrocious and horrors of war, we are now threatened by famine. These German armies, since the beginning of the invasion, have lived on our soil by requisitioning victuals of all nature. Our production of grain normally is hardly sufficient for a fifth of the consumption. The maritime route being closed for the import of grain, our country would be famished in a short time. Solely for Liege and its environs, 1,500 tons of grain are necessary each day. At the moment of writing, we have hardly grain enough for a few days."

U. S. Saves People From Famine.

Without the generous assistance of the United States, it would mean for us famine with its unavoidable consequences of riots and plundering. We have suffered enough. At least let this misfortune be spared us. We are convinced that you will sympathize with our undeserved miseries.

In the province of Liege, the city has first been compelled to pay the war contribution of $30,000,000 francs ($8,000,000), while the requisitions which have been made so far exceed $30,000,000 francs. The city of Liege has a population of 117,000 inhabitants, and its ordinary annual budget hardly reached 14,000,000 francs."

Emile Dignefft and Paul Stae, members of the Liege town council, in a statement to the commission, say:

"To sum up the situation an industrial population of high efficiency is out of work, and cannot earn its food. It has no reserves any more in food or savings, and rescue is immediately and urgently needed for fear that catastrophe would be brought about by impending starvation, and food for relief is only the beginning of all kinds of relief up to the time when the population is allowed to organize its work again."

Nov. 6.—A part of the Japanese war to seize the German-owned railway running west from Tsin-Tau into the province of Shantung.

This was done under violent protest from the Chinese government, which held that it was a violation of the integrity of the Chinese republic, but the Japanese went ahead with their operations.

The number of the expeditors' forces has never been officially divulged, but it is said to have been upward of 4,000 men. A British document on listing of some 800 South Wales borderers and 400 Indian soldiers, under command of Brig. Gen. Nathaniel W. Bernardson, commander of the North China forces, was at their head, and is said to have formed a part of the center of the Japanese line in the investment of Tsin-Tau.

Allies Lose Heavily.

Fighting continued from the middle of September intermittently until the fall of the fortress today. During this period, both the German and the Japanese warships and aeroplanes engaged in the bombardment of each other's positions. On one of the most severe of these engagements on October 21, it was announced that the Japanese loss was 120 killed and 800 wounded. It was then reported that the Japanese would await the arrival of siege guns before continuing operations.

At various times German losses were reported up to a score or more.

On the night of October 17 occurred the most serious of the Japanese naval losses, when the cruiser Takachiho was blown up by the German torpedo boat S-30.

It was reported on October 23 that the Japanese had finally installed their siege guns under cover of Prince Henry mountain and other hills near the town.

The German fortresses included three lines of defense. The first of these, on the outskirts appears to have been evacuated some time ago and the garrison concentrated in Forts Moltke, Blomberg and Hiss, which occupy commanding positions on the range of precipitous hills that circle the harbor of the city. The Germans also had five forts exclusively for shore defense.

FRIEDMANN 'CURE' BRANDED AS FAKE BY U. S. OFFICIALS

Report on Investigation by Public Health Service Is Given Out.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The seal of official disapproval has been put upon the tuberculosis cure invented by Dr. Friedmann of Berlin. The announcement was made today by the United States public health service in making an abstract of the report of investigation in hospitals and laboratories where tests of the Friedman cure are made. It declares that conclusions are in line with previous reports both in this country and abroad which have rated Dr. Friedmann's claim to the discovery of a specific cure for tuberculosis as "unsubstantiated."

One-fourth of all cures treated under observation at American physi- cians' clinical training sites of the 100,000 cases of the disease in the United States, indicate that the Friedman method is effective, a cure, but do not consider it "certain." The report further states that the treatment may be due to the fact that Dr. Friedmann's claim to a specific cure for tuberculosis is different from varieties of tubercle bacilli commonly known as tubercles of the lungs and their infection of animals rendered the disease more susceptible to tuberculosis and of more resistance to it.

VILLA TROOPS WIN DECISIVE VICTORY FROM CARRANZISTAS

SAN ANTONIO Tex., Nov. 6.—Villa forces won their first decisive victory today 30 miles south of Aguascalientes when the Carranza forces, after a fierce artillery duel, abandoned six machine guns and a battery of mountain howitzers and retreated toward Leon. It is reported the casualties were small. Villa's forces were commanded by Gen. Felipe Angeles and the Carranzistas by Gen. Francisco de Leon.

To Resume Work in Roosevelt Tunnel

Work on the extension of the Roosevelt deep drainage tunnel in the Cripple Creek district will be resumed within a week, according to James F. Burns, who has just returned from a trip of inspection over the property. The fire at the El Paso mine, which destroyed several buildings and much machinery, will not greatly delay the work.

During October the tunnel extension was pushed 150 feet. The flow from the portal now is about 10,000 gallons a minute. The water is decreasing in the El Paso mine at the rate of 11 feet a month, and other properties report similar results.

CITY ORDERS BUILDING
OF ST. VRAIN CROSSING

Ordinance Opens Street Under D. & R.
G. Tracks so That West Side Residents May Cross in Safety

Steps were taken at the city council meeting yesterday whereby west side residents will be afforded a safe entrance into Monument Valley park. An ordinance was ordered printed, opening West St. Vrain street under the Denver & Rio Grande right-of-way and directing the city attorney to bring suit in the district court to condemn the land to be used. It is the purpose of the city to compel the railroad company to build an undercrossing.

Present plans call for an undercrossing of concrete, eight feet wide and seven feet high, inside measurements. At present people are compelled to cross the tracks on West St. Vrain street. A number of complaints have been received from west side residents against the risk of life which children run in crossing the tracks to get to the park.

SAYS STUPIDITY COMES FROM LAZINESS OR VICE

Moral Alertness Is Theme of Ethical
Talk to Students by Dr.
Slocum

Moral alertness is the keynote of university life, according to President W. F. Slocum in his address to the students of Colorado college yesterday at the weekly ethical lecture. A great many people are never more than half awake and are morally stupid because they will not think, he said.

"Moral life should dominate everything else in college," said Dr. Slocum. "This is a place where preeminently, thoughtfulness, for others should exist in large measure. Moral alertness makes people considerate of others, and the person who listens to gossip and is influenced by idle rumor and attempts to 'queer' other people behind their backs, is empty-minded. The large-minded man does not allow himself to be prejudiced."

"Stupidity comes from either laziness or vice. The first brings moral paralysis, the second, death. Small talk and gossip are unworthy of the life of an institution for higher learning, and the one who indulges in them should be ostracized by every self-respecting person."

"Leaders are made in college, and the power of leadership is that of mental self-control. Some people hardly know there is war in Europe. At least they understand very little of what it really means, because they have not taken the pains to find out what is involved in it. Those who think about it are the ones who are trying to relieve the suffering that has resulted from it, whereas the ignorant person asks, 'Why should I do anything to help the Belgians?'

There is a fundamental law of Christianity and of a true gentleman, in President Slocum's opinion. If a man, because of his idle talk and moral stupidity, has wronged another, he should repair the wrong and then apologize to the one he has injured. All this could be avoided if people would stop to think, and not allow themselves to be unfairly influenced.

The dental infirmiry fund will be increased by about $200 as the result of "Columbia day" at the Princess theater yesterday. The total amount collected is now $700, the sum necessary to establish the infirmiry being $800.

Coal Cars Burned
in Roswell Yards

Damage estimated at about $2,000 was caused by the burning of four Rock Island box cars last night at Roswell. The blaze started at 6:30 o'clock, and the cars, which were filled with company coal, burned before help came. The fire was outside the city limits. There were about 80 tons of coal in each car.

The fire department was called out twice yesterday in response to alarms on North Cascade Avenue and West Columbia street. Neither resulted in serious loss.

Mrs. C. J. Wright said yesterday that the committee would make every effort to bring the campaign to a close this week. "Columbia day" is an annual occasion at the Princess. Manager J. E. Tompkins giving the proceeds to the school.

$935,000 Added to
County Valuation

County Assessor R. J. Gwinn has been advised by the county commissioners to add $25,000 to his valuation of the county as directed by the state tax commission. The commissioners informed the tax commission several weeks ago that they would not make the ordered increase unless compelled to do so by the court, but they have since changed their view.

The increase is to be horizontal and will amount to 2 per cent. As soon as the final valuation figures are given to the commissioners they will consider the question of making the budget and levy for next year. The county levy for next year will be smaller than this year, as approximately $40,000 which was appropriated for election expenses and to cover a deficit which had accumulated will not be needed.

The state levy has been announced as 1.38 mill, an increase of .08 mill over last year.

Manitou and Ramona Both in Dry Column

Voters in Each Town Prefer Prohibition

El Paso county almost to a precision is dry. The large dry majority returned at the election last Tuesday was made up of smaller majorities from practically all the precincts. The sentiment of a large number was not overruled by a scant majority.

But eight precincts out of the 56 have reported thus far are wet. Seven haven't yet sent in their returns. The total vote thus far reported is 3,600 for and 4,888 against. Two years ago the vote was 7,800 against and 4,748 for. While there was a big change of sentiment, the majority was honored by the 148 people who voted Tuesday and the 100 two years ago.

Twenty-six of 28 precincts have reported in Colorado Springs, and only three give a wet majority. In one of these, Ward 6, Precinct 1, the vote was close, being 137 against to 133 for.

The others had fair majorities. The total vote in the city, with returns missing from several precincts, stands 5,571 for and 3,888 against, a majority of 2,683 for prohibition.

North-end wards and Broadmoor voted for prohibition. More unexpected, Precinct 5, in which Ramona is located, went dry 107 to 50. Three of the five precincts in Colorado City went dry, the total being 72 for and 53 against. Manitou, with two precincts, went dry by 50 votes.

Eastcliffe and Palmer Lake are the only country precincts that have reported thus far that were wet. Palmer Lake voted 86 against and 2 for, the greatest wet majority proportionately.

Broadmoor, Leyden, Nook Hill and La Verne, ready parts of Colorado Springs, went dry 2,100 to 1,611.

Miss Isabelle Lowe Takes Part of June
in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" Today

As rapid development is demanded in the modern play, Eugene Walter has fate in heavy hands on the hero in his dramatization of John Fox, Jr.'s widely read book, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which plays at the Opera house today, matinee and night. The stage story is one of primitive love that is said to be most appealing, enhanced by a wealth of scenic embellishments. "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" enables you to realize the truth of things as they appear, and are.

Despondency Due to Indigestion.

It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become disengaged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowes, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago, when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve and kindred taking a few bottles of them, my digestion is fine." For sale by 40 dealers. Adv.

Today's clash between the Terrors and Sacred Heart on Washburn field is the class, on their previous meeting gives promise of being one of the most evenly fought intercholastic battles seen on Washburn field for years. The High school team, while still crippled, has struck its midseason stride and completely lost the Jesuits on several forward pass formations.

The teams are evenly matched as far as weight is concerned. The Terrors this year have a team above the intercholastic weight average and every high school team that has tried to stem the Brown and White tide found it impossible. Also, the Terrors are somewhat maddened by their loss of the game to the college freshmen.

Line Plunging Expected.

Coach Cogdill finished his drill last night after developing a set of new open plays that probably will be uncorked today. The Terror backfield is heavy and in the past has had little trouble in gaining through the opponents' line at will. D. Richardson and Kirtan, a pair of husky tackles, have helped in opening up gaps in the line for this method of attack. The Terror ends are pretty light this year, but they are game to the core and are adept at passing and receiving.

The backfield today will consist of Captain Gray and Richardson at halves, Clark at full and Keessling and Vaughn at quarter. Keessling is not in the best of condition and Vaughn may be shifted from end to the snapper's job. Linderholm, however, is a good man, either at end or in the backfield, but lacks the weight of the other backs. The center of the Brown line with Bowen, the scrappy passer at center, Shoup, Clough, Bender and Bonbow at guards is an aggressive combination.

But the Terrors are not going up against an ordinary high school team today. The Catholics are well coached, better than the average high school team and play at particularly slushing game in the field. The backfield came through last season intact and is experienced. Durbin, Grace and Burnett are players of college caliber.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock on Washburn field. The game will be officiated by Hickox as referee with the others to be chosen when the officials arrive.

through the Colorado university lines in the game with Colorado college last Saturday. The loss of Charles Sells, halfback, who on Tuesday sustained a broken leg, in practice, will be sorely felt. Sells will be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

A shift in the lineup of the Golden team in the Miners-Ministers contest at Union Park in Denver is contained in advances from Coach Hanley's camp at Golden. Oleson will appear at the start of the game, while his brother, Frank, will take his place in the middle of the field.

Charles Somers, of the Cleveland club was reelected vice president of the league without opposition and the board of directors for the ensuing year will include representatives of the Chicago, Cleveland, New York and Boston clubs.

Most of the magnates declared themselves for a reduction in the number of players carried.

Reduction in the price of seats at world's series games also found unanimous support, and the magnates agreed that the prices charged should exceed the regular admission prices by only a small margin if at all. The National league again will have to agree to this suggestion before any change is made.

Believing that the games played last year in a good many cases extended far beyond the time really necessary, the club owners agreed that mana-

Chicago Market

Financial Situation

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Notwithstanding that there was advance in ocean freight rates checked demand from exporters, wheat prices generally showed considerable strength. The result was one of fear that the Argentine crop had suffered serious damage. There was a firm close from 4c to 5c net advance. Other leading staples, too, all finished higher compared with last night—corn, 5c to 6c; oats, 6c to 7c; wheat, 2c to 3c; and provisions, 2c to 3c.

How much harm had been done by cold and frost to wheat in Argentina could only be inferred, but some experts were not slow to assert that the injury was severe. It was said the crop there was at a critical stage, and that it would take from such as reported, could not fail to have done much mischief, and may have ranged from a branch to disaster. Der'Iddy's higher quotations at Rosario and Buenos Aires appeared to bear out this view and helped to lift the market here.

Continued heavy receipts of wheat at primary points in the United States led to a reaction in prices but the effect failed to last. It was asserted that in many cases the arrivals were being counted twice, first at southwestern markets and again at Chicago. A distinct falling off in the spring crop movement was said to be noticeable, and there were late reports of flour sold at Chicago for shipment to Europe.

There was a sharp drop in export d's and for corn put a lever under that cereal. Sales intended for transatlantic countries footed up 600,000 bushels. There were also predictions of unexpected weather.

Data were influenced by advices of North Dakota supplied going to Canada and by estimates of 15 to 20 per cent impairment to the crop in southwestern Argentina.

Covering by shorts in provisions was on a large scale and made prices rise to a steep jump. Pork showed the biggest advance, 6c to 7c.

LIVERPOOL MARKET REOPENS

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—With the Liverpool market reopened today for restricted trading in May-June futures, there was a larger attendance of members on the floor of the local exchange. For the first time since last July, Liverpool cables were posted on the screen.

The increasing interest of the trade was also reflected in exports of a more active business on the local curb. Delivery contracts were traded in rather freely at 7.50, later advancing to 7.62, with sellers asking 7.65. Mawneen in Liverpool fluctuated between 445 and 448, closing at the latter figure, which represented an advance of 2½ English points in the minimum price fixed by the liquidating committee as a basis for international liquidation.

Reports from the south indicated continued steady gains in the interior spot markets, and local brokers reported that sales were still light although 20,000 bbls. were taken in a single day. It is a fact that a number of the smaller oil companies are still holding their exports, 18,000 bbls. so far this year, up to Nov. 19, 44,955 bbls. United States port stocks, 33,340. New Orleans spot, firm 7.50; 16,220.

Chicago Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Two developments of distinct significance were recorded in the financial situation today. One was the rather free lending of six months money at 6½ per cent on mixed collateral, as against the long standing 8 per cent rate and the other was the sale of the New York city 6 per cent three-year notes, which were issued at par, to yield only 4½ per cent. Incidentally, the commercial paper was accepted for the shorter periods at a fraction under 6 per cent.

In line with this general improvement, it was also learned that the stock exchange authorities will within a short time, order the removal of certain restrictions which have operated against the purchase and sale of high-class securities. It is not implied, however, that anything like regular operations will be permitted.

Dealing in listed and unlisted bonds and notes were said to have approached $2,000,000 per day. Aside from the demand for cash issues, the notes of several of the more prominent railroads were in active request, at prices ranging from 4½ to 5 per cent. Listed stocks were higher in the unofficial market, and on the curb a majority of the Standard Oil issues were quoted at prices above July 30 closing quotations.

There was more than the usual division of opinion respecting the weekly cash movement but on the surface it would appear that local banks have lost considerable sums to the treasury. It remains to be seen whether the losses will be large enough to offset the excess cash reserves built up during the preceding fortnight.

Bank clearings of the country showed betterment except in the agricultural sections and certain manufacturing centers whose industries have benefited by sales of merchandise to the warring nations. Cotton continued to be one of the chief articles of export, but the sharp advance in marine war risks has had a marked tendency toward the curtailment of shipments to all foreign points.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Continued improvement in sentiment, additional ease in money market, increased interest in stocks and bonds at higher prices, heavy again exports, sustained demand for war materials, at remunerative prices, high prices for cereals and livestock, somewhat better collections, excellent winter wheat conditions and undeniable betterment in the southern cotton situation, due to a rise in exports, furnish a budget of favorable news this week.

On the other hand, there is considerable idleness which reduces the purchasing power in manufacturing, and warm weather adversely affects retail trade, while likewise restricting orders.

Failures for the week in the United States were 32, compared with 24 last year. In Canada, 42 against 42 last year.

Bank clearings were $2,568,899,000, a decrease of 33 per cent from last year. Wheat exports, 7,812,884 bushels against 7,837,876 bushels a year ago.

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Colorado Springs People Stands the Test

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Colorado Springs people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. They do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows, in just as represented? Below is testimony such as the sufferer from kidney disease is looking for.

W. A. Imeson, S. Institute St., Colorado Springs, says: "I am in good health and don't suffer from kidney trouble as I did some years ago, before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever my back gets weak, I can depend on Doan's Kidney Pills to stop the trouble." I gladly confirm the endorsement I gave them about three years ago."

Price, 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy get Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Imeson had. Foster-Millburn Co., Groves, Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

THE WAR BEHIND THE WAR

The International Sunday School lesson for November 8 is "Sowing and Reaping" (World's Temperance Sunday)—Gal. 6:1-10.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Back of the present conflict is writing these present days in letters of red on history's calendar, lies an older, vaster struggle, of which it may be the present strife is but a phase. I mean the world war on behalf of idealism and the betterment of men. This struggle is almost as old as the human race, and it has steadily grown more acute, until now in our time it has come to something approximating a crisis.

The effort to lift the human race up to its highest possibilities is in its essence what the Apostle Paul called a contest between the flesh and the spirit. It is material values set in array over against moral values. In other phrasing, it may be called a contest between truth and error. The question involved is, "Is it possible to keep the human race in the victory in this supreme struggle?"

Unquestionably there is rapidly developing a common world mind which is bearing witness everywhere for the things of idealism. Civilization today is not blind to the errors of the past, nor to the blunders of the present. The world is learning to see that the abolition of the liquor traffic is approaching. Drinkers and saloonkeepers are fully astute to it. Some talk of this temperance era as if it were a definite and concrete something, a sort of bogie man lurking just around the corner. Certainly the anti-saloon, especially as registered at the ballot box, is making steady progress the land over.

The abolition of the use of intoxicants is a staggering blow to the liquor business. When Russia came to face a crisis in the present war, she prohibited the sale of alcoholic liquor, and already the newspaper correspondents are reporting that the effects are no apparent and beneficial upon the people that there is a likelihood of the prohibition being made permanent when the war is over.

After all, when stripped of its accessories and phraseology, what is it that men are asked to give up by the abolition of the use of strong drink? They sacrifice no high moral principle, no precious heritage of truth or power of mankind, merely a minor personal indulgence is at stake, of which the best that can be said is that it is pleasant to the taste and temporarily cheering to the spirit.

Over against this habit which no reasonable person claims to be necessary to health or happiness, is ranged the vast sum of human welfare which has been adversely affected by the use of intoxicants. Look at the present time the use of liquor would have disappeared were it not for the business interests involved. It is not the appetite of the drinker so much as the appetite of the seller that stands in the way of a land free from the curse of intoxicants.

After all, when stripped of its accessories and phraseology, what is it that men are asked to give up by the abolition of the use of strong drink? They sacrifice no high moral principle, no precious heritage of truth or power of mankind, merely a minor personal indulgence is at stake, of which the best that can be said is that it is pleasant to the taste and temporarily cheering to the spirit.

The central truth of the teaching is that "To be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritually minded is life and peace." The greatest
